

Continuing Trade War

Why in news?

 $n\n$

\n

- India has recently hiked duty on 29 items imported from the US.
- \bullet The retaliatory measures by India and other countries to US's tariffs are indicative of an expanding trade war. $\ensuremath{\backslash n}$

 $n\n$

What is India's move?

 $n\n$

\n

- Earlier India told WTO of its plans to increase the customs duty on 30 products imported from the US.
- \bullet Motorcycles with internal combustion engine capacity over 800 cc was in the list.

\n

• However, India has now left out such motorcycles.

\n

 \bullet It has slapped tariffs as high as 50% on a list of 29 goods imported from the U.S.

۱n

 \bullet Some of them are lentils, boric acid, fresh apples and shelled almonds. \n

What is India's stance?

 $n\n$

\n

• India's notification to the WTO says that U.S. tariffs on steel and aluminium would cost India $241 million.

\n

• Thus, the tariffs imposed on the U.S. would bring in a commensurate amount.

\n

- ullet It has also indicated its preference to deal with the issue through dialogue.
- \bullet It has stated clearly that it did not prefer "measures and counter-measures". $\ensuremath{^{\backslash n}}$

What are the other recent developments?

 $n\n$

\n

• In the recent period, China and the US have imposed various rounds of tariffs on each other.

\n

ullet It all began when $oldsymbol{US}$ unveiled tariffs to discourage the import of steel and aluminium into the country.

\n

• The latest round of tariffs imposed by the U.S. on Chinese goods will be the highest in terms of the value of goods.

\n

• It will now affect Chinese goods worth $450 billion.

• Notably, total Chinese imports into the U.S. last year were worth around $500 billion.

۱'n

• The European Union also joined the trade war recently, imposing tariffs on $3.3 billion of American goods.

What will the implications be?

 $n\n$

\n

- Investors may be beginning to take threats of a trade war more seriously.
- The fact is that all sides engaged in a trade war eventually lose.
- The longer it goes on, the greater the cost.
- \bullet This is because growth slows down under the increasing burden of taxes. $\ensuremath{\backslash} n$

• The only gainers in a trade war will be special interest groups, such as the U.S. steel industry.

۱n

- \bullet Even retaliatory tariffs may only perpetuate the vicious negative-sum game.
- It may not contribute to bringing the war to an end.
- \bullet Global powers must try their best to bring an end to the ongoing trade war before it gets out of hand. $\ensuremath{\backslash n}$
