Environment & Biodiversity

There exist a big gap between environment policy goals and action. In this context, should we ignore environmental degradation as being just a cost of development or reassess our environmental policies?

\n\n

Refer – The Hindu

\n\n

Enrich the answer from other sources, if the question demands.

\n