How does the China factor play a role here?

 $n\n$

۱n

• The Maldives has maintained a close relationship with China, especially in financial terms, under its previous government.

- It has welcomed Chinese money for major infrastructure projects and has also signed free trade agreement (FTA) with china.
- This has ignored political moderation and closer security ties with India.
- However, it is now estimated that China's loans to the Maldives total at least $1.3 billion, or a quarter of Maldives' gross domestic product.
- Hence the new Maldivian government is looking to India for more budgetary support to overcome the crisis and to help meet its development goals. \n
- Maldives is also planning to revise the FTA with China.

What should be done?

 $n\n$

\n

- Apart from the India-First policy of Maldives, China will continue to play an important role as an economic partner.
- However, India's role will be critical in determining the trajectory of political developments in the Maldives.
- India's patient handling of the Maldives crisis over the last few years has positioned it well. \n
- By coordinating its response with other like-minded regional and extraregional players, India should underscore the options available to the Maldives if it decides to move away from China. \n
- The more India invests in strengthening democratic institutions in its neighbourhood, the better returns it will get in its foreign policy.
