

India's Commitment to Women's Safety

Mains Syllabus: GS II - Mechanisms, laws, institutions and Bodies constituted for the protection and betterment of these vulnerable sections.

Why in news?

In recent times, women are excelling across all sectors, through the legislative reforms, initiatives, and financial support by the Indian Government to empower them to the full potential.

What are the legal measures to safeguard women security?

- Government has implemented a number of crucial laws to safeguard women's physical and mental security.
- Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita 2023 - It introduced stringent penalties for sexual offenses, including the death penalty for the rape of girls below 18 years of age.
- It increased minimum sentences for rape and expanded the definition of sexual offenses.
- Harassment related to dowry is also punishable under laws like the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS).
- Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act 2012 - The act safeguards children from sexual abuse and offences.
- The Act was further reviewed and amended in 2019 to introduce more stringent punishment including the death penalty for Committing sexual crimes on children.
- Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005 - In India, domestic violence is governed by the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act (PWDVA), 2005.
- The Act applies to women in shared households related by blood, marriage, adoption, or marriage-like relationships.

The NFHS-5 (2019-2021) report shows spousal violence among married women (18-49 years) declined from 31.2% (2015-16) to 29.3%.

- Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 - It penalizes giving, taking, or demanding dowry.
- Authorities such as Dowry Prohibition Officers, police, and NGOs handle complaints, and awareness programs aim to discourage dowry practices.

If a woman dies under unnatural circumstances within seven years of marriage due to dowry harassment, it is considered dowry death, with severe legal consequences.

- Immoral Traffic (Prevention) Act, 1956 - This Act focuses on preventing human trafficking and the sexual exploitation of individuals for commercial purposes.
- It provides support by rescue and rehabilitation of victims and prescribes penalties for those involved in trafficking offenses, aiming to combat organized exploitation.
- Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006 - The Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006 (PCMA) was enacted to prevent child marriages and punish those involved.
- Section 16 of the act empowers State Governments to appoint Child Marriage Prohibition Officers (CMPOs) to enforce the Act.
- CMPOs work to prevent child marriages, collect evidence for prosecution, counsel communities, raise awareness, and sensitize the public on its harmful effects.
- Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition, and Redressal) Act, 2013 - It mandates employers to create an Internal Committee (IC) in workplaces with over 10 employees.
- For smaller organizations or cases against employers' government sets up Local Committees (LCs).

What are the Government Initiatives for Women Safety?

- Nirbhaya Fund - Government has set up a dedicated fund which can be utilized for projects specifically designed to improve the safety and security of women.
