National Council for Vocational Education and Training (NCVET)

\n\n

\n

- Union Cabinet has recently approved the merging of two skill institutes to form National Council for Vocational Education and Training (NCVET).

\n

- The merged two institutes are National Council for Vocational Training (NCVT) and the National Skill Development Agency (NSDA).

\n

- NCVET is envisaged as an institution which will perform the regulatory functions so far vested in NCVT and NSDA.

\n

- It will regulate the functioning of entities engaged in short-term and long-term vocational education and training.

\n

- It will establish minimum standards for the functioning of such entities.

\n

- It will operationalize the National Skills Qualification Framework (NSQF) to ensure that quality and standards meet sector specific requirements.

\n

- Regulatory functions currently being carried out by the National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) through the Sector Skill Councils (SSCs) will also be housed in the NCVET.

Alphonso Mango

\n\n

\n

- The government has recently granted Geographical Indication (GI) tag to the Alphonso Mango from Ratnagiri, Sindhudurg and other adjoining areas in Maharashtra.

\n

- Alphonso, the king of Mangoes, better known as 'Hapus' in Maharashtra, is in demand in domestic and international markets for its taste, pleasant fragrance and vibrant colour.

\n

- A GI is a sign used on products that have a specific geographical origin and possess qualities or a reputation that are due to that origin.

\n

- It is given to both man-made and natural products. However it is a community right rather than individual or company.

\n

- It is protected under Geographical indications of goods (registration and protection) act, 1999.

\n

- It is managed by Cell for IPR promotion and Management (CIPAM) under the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP), Ministry of Commerce and Industry.
