What is the present need for rate cut?

 $n\n$

\n

 \bullet The core inflation and inflationary expectations are high.

\n

• A lower interest rate is expected to revive investment or increase capacity utilisation.

۱n

 Companies are debt-laden and banks are burdened with non-performing assets.

What will be consequences of reduced interest rates?

 $n\n$

\n

• The inflow of foreign finance is most likely to decline, this may result in a serious depreciation of the rupee.

۱n

• This would threaten to increase inflation, bring insolvency to companies that have borrowed in foreign currency.

۱'n

• There will be negative impact on manufacturing.

\n

• There are chances of economic slowdown.
