

SC's view on Child Trafficking

Prelims: Current events of national and international importance | Polity & Governance

Why in news?

The Supreme Court of India declared that child trafficking and commercial sexual exploitation remain a "deeply disturbing reality" in India, despite protective laws.

Key Judicial Guidelines Issued

- Victim Status - A minor victim of trafficking should be treated as an "injured witness" rather than an accomplice.
- Victim credibility - Testimonies of trafficked children should not be disbelieved for minor contradictions; they must be seen as credible evidence.
- Judicial sensitivity - Lower courts were told not to reject victim testimonies just because of small mistakes, late reporting, or hesitation, since trauma and stigma often affect how victims speak.
- Socio-Economic Awareness - The Courts must consider victims' social and economic vulnerability, as traffickers exploit marginalised groups.
- Organised Crime Recognition - Trafficking networks use complex, layered structures to recruit, transport, harbour, and exploit minors - making it hard for victims to give a clear, step-by-step account.
- Constitutional rights - The exploitation of children strikes at the foundations of dignity, bodily integrity, and constitutional guarantees.

Child Protection Laws: Trafficking & Exploitation

Constitutional Safeguards

- Article 23 - Prohibits trafficking in human beings and forced labour.
- Article 24 - Bans child labour in hazardous industries.
- Article 39(e) & (f) - Directs the State to protect children from abuse and exploitation.
- Article 21 - Guarantees the right to life and dignity, interpreted to include protection from trafficking and sexual exploitation.

Statutory Provisions

- Indian Penal Code (IPC), 1860
- Immoral Traffic (Prevention) Act, 1956
- Bonded Labour System (Abolition) Act, 1976

- The Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986
- Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012
- The Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015

National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB), 2022 - 2,878 children were victims of human trafficking, and 83,350 children were reported missing in 2022.

International Commitments

- UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC) - ratified by India.
- Palermo Protocol (2000) - obliges states to combat trafficking.
- ILO Conventions - on the worst forms of child labour and forced labour.
