  1. Sravasti - It was the capital of Kosala, ruled by King Pasenadi, who was prominent supporter during the lifetime of the Buddha

Buddhist Council and its Locations

- First Buddhist Council at Rajgir - It is said to have been held just after Buddha's Parinirvana.
  - It was over by Mahākāśyapa, one of most senior disciples of Buddha.
  - The council was supported by king Ajāthaśatru.

- Its objective was to preserve the Buddha's sayings (suttas) and the monastic discipline or rules (Vinaya).
- The Suttas were recited by Ananda, and the Vinaya was recited by Upali.
- Second Buddhist Council at Vaishali - It took place at Vaishali approximately one hundred years after the Buddha's parinirvāṇa.
  - The main issue of the council seems to have been related to Vinaya or monastic discipline related to several loose practices by monks at Vaisali.
  - After unsuccessfully trying to modify the Vinaya, a small group of "elderly members", i.e. sthaviras, broke away from the majority Mahāsāṃghika during the Second Buddhist council, giving rise to the Sthavira sect.
  - There is no agreement however on the dating of the event or if it was pre or post Ashoka (304-232 BCE).
- Third Buddhist council at Patna - It was convened in about 250 BCE, supposedly under the patronage of Emperor Ashoka.
  - The traditional reason for convening the Third Buddhist Council is reported to have been to rid the Sangha of corruption.
  - It was presided over by the elder monk Moggaliputta-Tissa.
  - The council is recognized and known to both the Theravada and Mahayana schools, though its importance is central only to the Theravada.
- Fourth Buddhist Council, Kashmir - It is related to two separate Buddhist council meetings.
  - The first one was held in Sri Lanka and is traditionally attributed to the 1st century BCE.
  - The second one was held by the Sarvastivada school, in Kashmir around the 1st century CE.
  - It is said to have been convened by the Kushan emperor Kanishka (r. CE 127-151), perhaps at Harwan, near Srinagar, Kashmir.
  - The Fourth Council of Kashmir is not recognized as authoritative for the Theravadins.
  - The council was presided by Vasumitra, the outcome of this council was the vast commentary known as the Mahāvibhāṣā ("Great Exegesis).

Singapore Convention

- United Nations (UN) Convention on International Settlement Agreements Resulting from Mediation, is the first UN treaty to be named after Singapore.
- It applies to international settlement agreements resulting from mediation, concluded by parties to resolve a commercial dispute.

- It will allow businesses to seek enforcement of a mediated settlement agreement across borders by applying directly to courts of countries that have signed and ratified the treaty.
- Currently, Convention has 53 signatories, including India, China, and US.
- Businesses will benefit from mediation as an additional dispute resolution (ADR) option to litigation and arbitration in settling cross-border disputes.

UN's Commission on Status of Women (UNCSW)

- The CSW is the principal global intergovernmental body exclusively dedicated to the promotion of gender equality and the empowerment of women.
- It was established by ECOSOC resolution 11(II) of 21 June 1946.
- It promotes women's rights, highlights the reality of women's lives throughout the world and helps in shaping global standards on gender equality and the empowerment of women.
- 45 member states of the United Nations serve as members of the Commission at any one time.
- Recently India has been elected as the member of the Commission for four years from 2021 - 2025.

Phosphine Gas in Venus

- International team of astronomers has discovered phosphine gas in the atmosphere of Venus.
- According to findings Venus has traces of phosphine in a concentration of approximately 20 parts per billion, thousands to millions of times more than what could otherwise be expected.
- Phosphine, a colorless but smelly gas, is known to be made only by some species of bacteria that survive in the absence of oxygen.
- This discovery has triggered global excitement about the possibility of the presence of lifeforms on the neighboring planet.
- ISRO is also planning a mission to Venus, tentatively called Shukrayaan, in the near future.
