India must reach out to freedom fighters in Myanmar who are spearheading cdm to restore democracy. Elaborate

The occupiers are brightening the Tatmadaw since the take over of power by the latter. The Tatmadaw has been claimed to have committed crimes against humanity against the ethnic natives such as Chin people.

India's helping hand currently miserable houses more than 30,000 Chin people who are the rebels against the Tatmadaw. Mizos and Chins have strong relations such as marriages, trade with the Free movement Regime.

India though not a signatory to the 1951 refugee convention can give shelter to the asylum seekers on the principle of non-interference.

The democratization of Myanmar is essential for India in terms of security and trade. The radical Junta can polarize the people of north east to destabilize peace in the region.

India must reach out to the freedom fighters ~~as~~ before the influence of China over the Tatmadaw. Centre can relax its citizenship policy based on merit.

Issues - the Chin people provided safe-haven to secessionist group Mizo National Front previously. Any open welcoming for them can ~~be~~ put the security in jeopardy.

Myanmar is the gateway for us towards south east Asia. India's decision must ensure sovereignty for both states.
