

The threat of insurgency has greatly reduced in the country, but its potency in some areas still exists.

* * The Naxalites, Maoists route back to the Communist regimes & groups who are incapable of understanding India's diversity & democracy.

* They tend to be in clime of the poor whom they are said to be the representative

* Recently, The Home minister has expressed about the fall of their insurgent groups

AFFECTED AREAS :- The most affected areas are Andhra, Odisha, Bihar, Chattisgarh & few parts of Jharkhand.

* They cope with armed forces, properly & efficient personnel we were able to resist them & reduce their number

* Yet, they pose potential in

- Those affected areas. Causing the poor people deprived of education, better employment & their welfare activities.
- * They incite violence & give birth to many militants.
  - * They disrupt the law & order, peacefulness of the living space.

Q. WHAT CAN BE DONE?

- * No delay & deaf ears towards the 'Below poverty line people'.
- * Make sure that the welfare activities are reaching them.
- * Participations of voluntary organisations & NGOs play vital role.
- * Efficient armed forces to tackle the insurgents.
- * Literacy should be brought in.
