India's participation in the SCO summit is a clear signal of pursuing multialignment with its partners world wide. Explain

I.R. relations

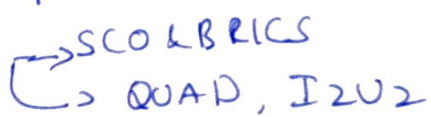

2022 Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) summit in Uzbekistan offers India great opportunity to speak out its stand & strengthen its relation amid of Russia-Ukraine war, Indo-Pacific region security issue etc.,

As India is member of various multilateral institutions which having members of opposite interest,

Prime minister participation in SCO summit strengthen relationship with countries like China, Pakistan, Russia, Iran

Sharing stage with Russian President regardless of one-to-one meeting reinforce his commitment to an India foreign policy that balance various blocks

On security front India joining

Russia led 'Vostok' Army exercise & plan to host SCO-RATS, also 'Pitch Black' & 'Yudh Agyat' with Australia & US, makes India to deal security issue in all front.

✓ Provide opportunity to address escalation along LAC with China as Doklam conflict eased after 2017 G20 summit meeting

✓ Restarting negotiations buying Iran oil & Chabahar port development against western & US pressure with sanction threat (CAATSC)

✓ Opportunity to end pause in Indo-Pak relationship after 2016 conflict, Article 370 removal as Pakistan facing massive floods & economic crisis

India's outcome at SCO meeting will underscore its vision on multipolar world so that it can send signal what India want to promote as president of G20 summit next year
